RENOLIT ALKOREN

HG Arctic Blue Metallic | A1374
S40.36.06.0010.

Colour shade:

Arctic Blue is a basic shade that has already been introduced, which continues to round out the current range of trendy colours. The gentle, slightly greyish shade of blue reminds us of the coldness of glaciers. The mixture of incorporated metallic pigments and the high-gloss surface appears to us like a surface sparkling in the sunlight.

Possible areas of use:

The new trend colour is ideal for kitchen units, and may also be used for bathroom furniture and in offices.

Used as a highlight colour, excellent design possibilities open up for public buildings and shops.

Possible combinations:

Arctic Blue inspires us to new colour concepts for country house kitchens.

In this case, the shade in combination with

RENOLIT COVAREN Oak ENDgrain Classic SC 3.0110.001 – 5 050 00
brings warmth to our living spaces.

In combination with plain colours, the entire palette of neutral shades is ideally suited for colour combinations with the sparkling shade of blue, like, for example,

Possible areas of use:

Wave Blue can be used for all surfaces in kitchens, and for shop-fitting, offices and public buildings.
